Unfinalizability

We do not fully know a subject, nor do we exhaust its possibilities that can be yet revealed

Couples Spiritual Direction

How do they discern a major decision together?
Exploring what might God be trying to form together
What happens when one person's spirituality changes?
Where is transcendence encountered in their ordinary life together?
What might their relationship be asking of them?
How does illness, ageing, infertility, parenting, retirement or bereavement change their shared spiritual landscape?

What's happening spiritually within and between these two people?

Spiritually Curious but religiously Allergic-seekers of meaning

Could spiritual direction become a place where such people can explore spirituality without being recruited into religion and instead find a spiritually hospitable and nurturing threshold?

Increasingly important in today's fragmented and secular world.

Inter-Faith: The courage to dialogue

A Christian Spiritual Director needn't be neutral or laying aside their faith to accompany someone of another faith. Someone of another faith may come to a Christian Spiritual Director precisely because they recognise a director's capacity for hospitality, presence, depth listening and co-discernment

Spiritual direction for organisations: missions, NGO's, Business, Governance

What does our mission look like when aligned to kingdom?
What are the strengths and weaknesses of our culture; traditions, way of working, accountabilities and expectations?
What are we becoming?
Where is spiritual discernment in our strategy?
